

26. 28 - 30. incl.
 9 November, 1826.

30. ind.
Pulvis, 20. 9. November, 1826.

What is the best way to get the most out of a book? The answer is to read it with a purpose.
What is your purpose?
Are you reading for information, for pleasure,
or for a specific task?
Your purpose will determine how you should read.
If you are reading for information, you should read actively, taking notes and asking questions.
If you are reading for pleasure, you should read passively, enjoying the story and the characters.
If you are reading for a specific task, you should read selectively, focusing on the parts that are relevant to your task.